

Reflecting On Our Past, Reimagining Our Future

Jennifer Meixner & Barb Temmerman

This year marks 100 years of the Canadian Association of Social Workers, a century of leadership, advocacy, and unwavering commitment to social justice and the wellbeing of individuals, and communities across Canada. Throughout 2026, CASW will celebrate this anniversary with the theme: Reflecting On Our Past, Reimagining Our Future.

This theme guides us as we reflect on the evolution of social work, uplift the voices and leadership shaping our profession today, and envision the next 100 years grounded in equity, and reconciliation.

On June 3, 2026, CASW celebrated the 100 years of social work in Canada in Ottawa. MCSW President, Jennifer Meixner; Executive Director/Registrar, Barb Temmerman; and CASW - MB Rep, Salina Fukumoto joined in the celebrations near Parliament Hill.
